

Table 4: Definitions of Some Applicable Premises

Applicable Premises	Definitions
 Hair salons / barber shops	Premises other than a beauty parlour where a person may have his / her hair on the face or on the head shaved, trimmed, cut or washed, or have other treatments done to the hair
 Religious premises	Premises constructed or regularly used for religious activities, including a church, monastery, nunnery, mosque, synagogue and temple
 Shopping malls	Any indoor shopping area with a variety of shops, and often restaurants, housed in a single building or in buildings connected by one or more passageways
 Department stores	Premises where a wide variety of goods (for example, men's and women's clothing, furniture, electrical appliances and hardware) are sold in separate departments
 Markets	Any indoor premises with one or more dedicated entrances where goods are sold at different stalls or stores at the premises Note: include all Government and non-Government managed markets
 Supermarkets	Self-service shops where fresh produce, food other than fresh produce, beverages and household goods are sold

